New RObi Features: Conversation History

Hey there! I'm RObi, your friendly AI Assistant from RestaurantOwner.com. I've been trained using valuable resources and insights from RestaurantOwner. This means I can help independent restaurant owners like you with advice and expert responses to help your business thrive, provide personalized training data for your team, and much more. To give you a glimpse, here's a recent conversation you had with me!

Please note: I am an AI/ML machine and not a human. All content should be used for informational purposes only.

A screenshot of the ChatGPT web interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with a hamburger menu icon and the text 'Conversation History'. Below this, a prompt says 'Try asking me questions like:'. Two example prompts are shown in light gray boxes: 'Hey ROB, please introduce yourself' and 'What kinds of things can you help me with?'. At the bottom, there's a large text input field with a red arrow pointing to it from the left. To the right of the input field are two icons: a microphone icon and a 'Send' button with a paper plane icon.

The screenshot shows the 'Resource Library' page of the Niles Township Library. The page has a blue header with the library's name and logo. A navigation bar contains links for Home, About Us, Services, and more. The main content area is titled 'Resource Library' with the subtitle 'Run a Better Restaurant - Starting Today'. Below this, there is a list of resources, each with a title, a brief description, and a 'View' button. The resources are: 'Start your restaurant', 'Menu planning', and 'Food safety'. A sidebar on the right contains a 'Related resources by topic' section with links to 'Start your restaurant', 'Menu planning', 'Food safety', and 'Food service'.
